

The Department Head for Pediatrics will oversee the faculty, staff, and learners in the Department of Pediatrics to advance the educational, clinical, research, and advocacy missions of the department and the School of Medicine. This includes New Orleans, Baton Rouge, and Lafayette faculty and learners. The Department Head will report directly to the Dean of the School of Medicine and work closely with the leadership at our partnering clinical facilities, regional campuses, and the LSU Healthcare Network. Partnering clinical facilities are highlighted by Children's Hospital New Orleans (CHNOLA) and include other LCMC Partner Hospitals and an expanding number of facilities in Louisiana and the Gulf Coast. The Department Head will also work with associate and assistant deans to ensure high-quality learners' educational experiences. The Department Head will have opportunities to collaborate with other clinical and basic science departments, and directors and staff of the multi-specialty clinics and multi-disciplinary services provided through CHNOLA.

MD or MD/PhD

Board Certified in Pediatrics or a Pediatrics Subspecialty, or be actively enrolled in the maintenance of certification program; licensure to practice in the State of Louisiana before hire date.

Ten years experience on a medical school faculty and have obtained the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. Must have achieved distinction in the areas of clinical practice, education, research, and/or program administration.
