Dear Physician Leaders,

The Association of Native American Medical Students (ANAMS) is working to build a strong network of physicians who are interested in supporting Native American medical students throughout school and in applying to residency programs. Our goal is to create a directory of physicians who we could connect students with.

We are looking for residents, fellows and post-training physicians who are interested in any of the following:

1. Providing general mentorship to students.
2. Providing specialty-specific mentorship to students.
3. Serving as a point of contact for your current or former residency program. For example, this would allow students interested in a specific program to talk with someone about their experience with the program and/or connect them to people within the program.

If you are interested in either or both of these, please follow the link below to enter your information. Any information you provide will be kept confidential, except when provided directly to students so they can contact you.

Please feel free to reach out Justin Kaye, our Alumni Outreach Liaison, at jbkaye@email.arizona.edu with any questions.

Sincerely,

ANAMS Leadership
