

Tufts Medical Center and Tufts University School of Medicine, located in downtown Boston, Massachusetts, is seeking a new Chair for the Department of Anesthesiology and Perioperative Medicine.

The scope of responsibility includes operations in the inpatient and ambulatory surgery and procedural areas, maternity suites, critical care units, and pain management, as well as oversight and integration of the anesthesiology program at our Wellforce community hospitals. The Chair will implement a strategic vision and be responsible leading the Department clinically, operationally, and academically towards that vision.

Candidate credentials to include:

- Board Certification in Anesthesiology and ability to obtain a license in Massachusetts
- Qualifications for anticipated academic appointment at the Associate Professor or Professor level
- Track record of clinical, academic, and administrative leadership as a Department Chair, Division Chief, or Section Head.
- Keen understanding of managing ACGME-accredited Anesthesiology residency and fellowship programs

Tufts Medical Center, a 410 bed ACS Level 1 adult and pediatric trauma center, is the academic hub of the Wellforce Health System. As the principal teaching hospital of Tufts University School of Medicine, Tufts Medical Center is at the forefront of education and research, training the next generation of physicians, including 48 residency and fellowship programs. We conduct groundbreaking basic, clinical and health policy research and are in the top 10 percent of independent institutions receiving federal research funding and conduct $50 million annually in extramurally-funded research. Our quality initiatives consistently place us in the top 15% of all hospitals in the Vizient system. Our case mix index is at the top of Boston hospitals, and we provide world class care including one of the busiest heart failure and cardiac transplant programs in the country.

Tufts Medical Center Physicians Organization supports, inspires and empowers our diverse physician membership to provide innovative and collaborative world-class, patient-centered health care by creating an environment for transformative education, training and research. As an employee of the Tufts Medical Center Physician Organization (TMCPO) you will receive competitive compensation, a comprehensive benefits package, and a generous employer retirement plan contribution.
