

Section Chief of Colon and Rectal Surgery

The Division of General and Gastrointestinal Surgery at Brigham and Women's Hospital is seeking motivated applicants for a section chief of Colon and Rectal Surgery. The Section of Colon and Rectal Surgery consists of seven surgeons with clinical practices across four sites, including Brigham and Women's Hospital, Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital, South Shore Hospital and Kent Hospital in Rhode Island. This individual's clinical practice will be primarily based at Brigham and Women's Hospital, where they will be responsible for colorectal program development across the Brigham system, as well as faculty development and mentorship. Preference will be given to a candidate with a strong academic record.

Eligible candidates must have completed a general surgery residency training program and fellowship training in colorectal surgery. Suitable candidates will have an MD or an MD/PhD and board certifications from the American Board of Surgery and the American Board of Colorectal Surgery. The candidate should be eligible for, and maintain, full medical licensure in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Appointment as assistant or associate professor of surgery at Harvard Medical School will be commensurate with experience, training and teaching activities.

Brigham and Women's Hospital and the Department of Surgery are committed to ensuring our diverse community feels welcome, cared for and valued. Candidates who have experience working with a diverse range of faculty, staff, and patients, and who can contribute to the climate of inclusivity are encouraged to identify their experiences in these areas.

We are an equal opportunity employer, and as such all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

A selection committee, headed by Dr. Ali Tavakkoli, chief of the Division of General and Gastrointestinal Surgery at Brigham and Women's Hospital, will be reviewing all applications. Interested candidates should submit their curriculum vitae and a letter of interest by email to Dr. Gerard M. Doherty, chair of the Department of Surgery at Brigham and Women's Hospital, at the following address: surgeryfacultyaffairs@bwh.harvard.edu.
