

Johns Hopkins School of Medicine
Search for Director, Department of Pediatrics

Subject: Search for Director, Dept. of Pediatrics, Johns Hopkins School of Medicine

Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine is seeking a dynamic, innovative leader to become the new director of the Department of Pediatrics and co-director of Johns Hopkins Children's Center.

Candidates for the position should embrace all parts of the tripartite mission, and have a demonstrated record of excellence in one or more components of that mission. In addition, candidates are expected to have a record of service and administration, outstanding interpersonal and communication skills, commitment to the goals of diversity, equity and inclusion, and a compelling vision for the department and the discipline.

By August 21st, please submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and one page vision statement to:

Lea Hbeishy

lhbeish1@jhmi.edu

Johns Hopkins University

School of Medicine, Office of the Dean

An Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer