

Neuroradiology and Imaging Health Services

Position: Diagnostic Neuroradiology – Tenure Track Assistant Professor / Tenured Associate Professor

The Department of Radiological Sciences, University of California Irvine (UCI), is seeking a qualified candidate for a tenure track Assistant Professor or tenured Associate Professor position in the subspecialty of Diagnostic Neuroradiology. The position will be responsible for directing the Imaging Health Services and Comparative Outcome Research in the Department of Radiological Sciences at the University of California Irvine. The position requires promoting the quality of imaging services and research on health disparity issues and comparative effectiveness among faculty, fellows, residents, and medical students, teaching course curricula related to health services, and engaging UCI faculty in relevant research projects. Expertise in imaging health services and comparative outcome research, particularly considering the racial and ethnic disparity in the catchment area of UCI, is required. This faculty position will also be responsible for at least 20% clinical coverage in the Section of Diagnostic Neuroradiology, as well as fulfilling the research and teaching duties in the Section.

Basic Qualifications - Candidate must possess an MD or MD/PhD degree and must be fellowship trained in Diagnostic Neuroradiology with a documented track record in health services, comparative effectiveness, and health disparity research and teaching.

Additional Qualifications – By start of position, candidates must be board-certified in diagnostic radiology and hold a medical license in the State of California.

The University of California Health system serves Orange County population. The Department of Radiological Sciences performs over 220,000 examinations per year and has 40 full-time and part time faculty. All equipment is state of the art. The department has active multidisciplinary collaboration with other departments. A brand new, state of the art imaging facility is opening in 2020 with new equipment in several modalities.

Orange County is world renowned for its natural beauty, perfect year round climate, gorgeous locales on the Pacific Ocean and incomparable recreational opportunities. Great cultural opportunities abound in Orange County as well as in nearby Los Angeles, 40 minutes away and San Diego, about 60 minutes away.

Application Procedure – Must submit an online application by logging in to UC Irvine's RECRUIT System, located at: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF08608>

Application profile will include the following application materials electronically to be considered for the position:

- 1) Curriculum vitae
- 2) Statement of Research
- 3) Teaching Statement
- 4) Inclusive Excellence Activities Statement
- 5) 3 References (contact information only)
- 6) Sexual Misconduct, Harassment, and Discrimination Declaration Form

For further information pertaining to this recruitment please contact:

Min-Ying Lydia Su, PhD

Professor, Department of Radiological Sciences

UCI School of Medicine

Department of Radiological Sciences

University of California, Irvine
Email: msu@uci.edu

The University of California, Irvine is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, protected veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy.

As a University employee, you will be required to comply with all applicable University policies and/or collective bargaining agreements, as may be amended from time to time. Federal, state, or local government directives may impose additional requirements.