

Minimally Invasive Gynecologic Surgery Specialist

The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine seeks a full-time non-tenure-eligible Clinician-Educator at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor. Working in the Center for Complex Gynecology at Northwestern Medicine is a unique, friendly, highly collaborative, multidisciplinary center of excellence dedicated to improving the quality of life for women. Position responsibilities include the clinical care of outpatients and inpatient consultation, involvement in medical student, resident, and fellow education and participation in research. A commitment to clinical research and/or education for academic career advancement is sought.

The candidate must be fellowship trained at an accredited AAGL training program. A minimum of two years of gynecologic surgery experience is preferred with a focused area of expertise such as robotic assisted surgery, chronic pelvic pain and/or vaginal surgery. The candidate must have the ability to collaboratively diagnose and treat a wide variety of gynecologic conditions and also know their limits. Must be proficient in performing gynecologic procedures to address conditions such as advanced endometriosis, large ovarian cysts and fibroids.

Applicants must be board-certified or board-eligible. Salary and academic appointment will be commensurate with achievements and experience.

The start date is negotiable and the position will remain open until filled.
